Heidi, I asked you by email repeatedly to set up with me ahead proper times for me to speak with the girls over this week on video calls directly without any supervision from your part and at decent hours French time.

I'm sad to see that you tried again to call me in the middle of the night or extremely early in the morning without notice while you knew I would be asleep. This it shows your clear continued efforts at trying to prevent any communication between me and the girl and also parental alienation.

I know that you're telling the girls, "Let's call your father", obviously you're not telling them that it's the middle of the night in France and that I'm asleep unable to answer, and then you tell them, "oh look your father doesn't want to talk to you..."

This type of behavior isn't proper parenting and you're clearly trying to hurt and sever entirely my relationship to the girls. So please re-establish immediately proper communication between me and the girls by discussing with me these calls ahead of time, and you'll need to make them happen as video call during which the girls need to be able to speak to me directly each at a time on these video call and unsupervised by you or anyone else.

Thanks,

Arnaud
